Synopsis

What kind of love won't vanish? Can love be retrieved again?

January 1, "Dog" disappears out of the blue. Vicky's love also disappears in a blink of an eye. But Vicky firmly believes that the return of Dog will help her regain her lost love. She starts to find Dog's whereabouts in the city. Vicky comes across a group of youngsters of the new generation, during her search for dog's network.

"Cola", a high school student with no sense of self. "Hacker", an outsider who has lost his balance. "Money", a weird teen who preaches doomsday philosophy. At the same time, several photos of the missing man are distributed on the website by a mysterious woman named "Playing"...

"Honey or PuPu?" The disappearance of the honey bee population is happening all over the world. Some say global warming is the reason for the honey bees' disappearance. While others blame genetic modification... The most plausible theory is radiation of cell phones, which disorients flying honey bees' responses to magnetic field and lost their way home... Radiation also confuses the brains of our generation...

In the end, this group of youngsters, begin finding the missing journey, they manage to connect the present with the past, and even with the future...

All the missing things are beautifully preserved in an incredible paradise. Each of them finds the "missing secrets" in this journey...
